A LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

As a litigator for more than 40 years, I can state with certainty that one of the hardest things I encounter is finding great people to work with who are smart, passionate and truly support the litigation and trial effort I undertake for my clients. When you find someone who "fits the bill", you never want to let them go. They become part of the integral team that you, your clients and your career depend on with confidence. I've been fortunate to have the same court reporter for more than 30 years, and the same courtroom video and graphics people for years.

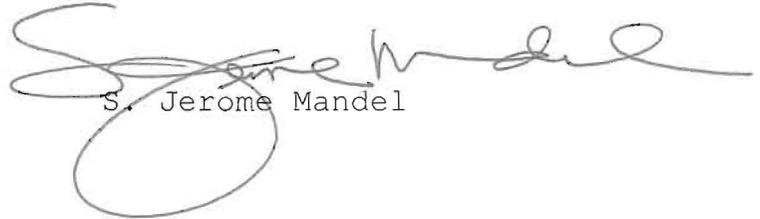

I am happy to be able to say that Jane Burns and the Lighthouse Health Group in Sydney, Australia, have been a tremendous part of that support team the past 5 years. I have had the distinct pleasure of working with Jane and Lighthouse in connection with a large dispute involving a client who suffered a major traumatic brain injury. They have provided case management services for my clients, and prepared the life care plan that I have relied upon. Even my opposing counsel commented that it was the best life care plan he ever had seen prepared. It was a tremendous piece of work that reflected the high standard of quality to which I try to adhere. Jane is the type of person who will labor over something to make sure it is perfect, not only because her name is on it, but because there is only one way to do something and that is the right way. Her colleagues share her passion for thoroughness and quality.

More importantly, Lighthouse has provided invaluable case management and related services to my clients. It makes the lives of my clients so much easier. The passion and enthusiasm of Lighthouse is palpable and greatly appreciated.

I wholeheartedly recommend Jane Burns and Lighthouse Health Group should you have a case or a matter that calls for their area of expertise, and where quality work is a necessity and not just lip service.

Very truly yours,
